Mendocino County Library Advisory Board
Annual Report to the
Mendocino County Board of Supervisors

The Mendocino County Library Advisory Board was established in 1970. The LAB acts in an advisory capacity to the Board of Supervisors to make recommendations to the County Librarian and the Board of Supervisors regarding issues of County Library operations, policy, services and programs, review of the budget, consideration of proposals or requests submitted by citizens or groups pertaining to the County Library operations, and other matters affecting public library services in Mendocino County. The LAB is comprised of nine voting members, one from each district and one from each city. Current board members are: District 1, Jody Nyberg (Secretary); District 2, Michele Bisson Savoy (Chair); District 3, Lew Chichester; District 4, Vacant; District 5, Vacant; City of Fort Bragg, Linda Thornquist Stumpf; City of Point Arena, Vacant; City of Willits, Olga O'Neill (Vice Chair), City of Ukiah, Susan Sher; County Librarian, Mellisa Hannum (non-voting).

The passage of Measure O in November 2022, making permanent a one-quarter cent (.25%) sales tax for library services, with at least forty percent (40%) reserved for capital investments requires the LAB to determine a fair and equitable distribution of funds to all areas of the county. Proceeds from this tax shall be allocated by the Board of Supervisors in consideration of recommendations of the Advisory Board.

The board meets six times a year rotating between individual library sites. Dates, time and meeting locations are posted on the County Library website. Mendocino County Board Supervisors are encouraged to attend the meeting in their districts.

The Mendocino County Library Advisory Board's goal is to support the library system and ensure that its revenue is used wisely. The board is made up of volunteers who meet bi-monthly to advise the Library Director and listen to feedback from the community.

Capital Improvement Fund 10-year plan

Throughout the 25-26 year, the LAB discussed, reviewed and approved the many projects undertaken by the library. Staff always presents updatedbudget status and other relevant information, answers questions and provides clarification as needed. The LAB strives to understand and maintain overall equitable use of both operating and capital improvement spending. It encourages efficient and necessary measures that are current and that reflect best practices. The Capital Improvement 10-year Fund was recently presented and approved by the LAB. All projects are funded through Fund 1239 (Measure 0) supported by 40% of Measure O Sales and Use Tax revenue.

The LAB supports the strategy of a long-term plan as well as the plan itself. Following is a summary of the Capital Improvement Fund 10-year plan approved by the LAB (also approved by the BOS).

Library Operating Fund

Last year the library received 2,205,887 from the County. This year the budget was cut by $651,979. The budget has cut the collection allocation by another 60%. It has shrunk from $214,627 in fiscal year 24/25 to $50,000 this year (decreasing by $164,627). Meanwhile staff expenditures have increased by $560,000. A87 costs remain high representing 10% of the budget at $563,870. Effectively the County is only contributing 990,038 to the Operating Fund. The library will end the year with a budget deficit (projected) of $820,018. The Library Director has implemented cost reductions including reducing custodial contracts for Coast and Round Valley branches, cutting paid professional development, restricting the Outreach Van to essential services only and reducing day-to-day supply budgets.

The Friends Groups

Every Library has a Friends Group. They raise money through book sales, grants, special fundraising events with the community, memberships and donations. They are the heart and soul of the library community. The dedication and commitment across the county underscore the importance of their libraries. The Friends Group is building the library annex in Ft. Bragg. The Friends groups raised funds to contributed directly to the branches collection budget. Without the continued support of these organizations the County would not have the 6 libraries and the Bookmobile.

The FOCCL group meets monthly at the library on the 4th Friday of the month at 1:30.

Friends of Coast Community Library (FOCCL) is the nonprofit organization founded to build a library for Point Arena and the Southern Mendocino and Northern Sonoma coastal communities. Our library is now a branch of the Mendocino County Library, but FOCCL still owns and maintains the library building.

In the 2025-2026 fiscal year, our main fundraising effort for was the Let's Raise the Roof campaign, with a goal of raising $75,000 to replace the roof of the main library building in Point Arena. With the help of local businesses, farmers and winemakers we put on a fundraiser at The Record in Point Arena to launch the campaign, and with a generous matching grant offer from an anonymous donor we exceeded our goal by over $15,000, enough to cover the additional cost of repairing damage discovered by the contractor after the removal of the old roof.

FOCCL conducts "honor system" book sales every day the library is open. Patrons select books from shelves in the reading room and pay with cash in a lock box. In the past year, we also did three book sales in conjunction with community events: for Halloween, for Point Arena's Hometown Holidays weekend in December and for the April Fringe festival. The total revenue from book sales was $2,210.

The library budget for the current fiscal year has impacted Coast Community Library's ability to serve our patrons. Collection funding was cut by two thirds, a decline of $6214. FOCCL has responded by increasing our support for collection materials from $4000 in the last fiscal year to $10,000 this year. We have also committed to a 33% increase in our contribution to the summer reading program and doubled our contribution to events and programs to 3000. We will be reaching out to our membership with the message that their support is essential to maintaining library services at the level patrons deserve.

FOCCL presents Lifelong Learning classes at the library. These are based on the Great Courses series of streaming university-level classes, typically lasting 20 weeks. They include viewing of the streaming lecture followed by discussion let by a FOCCL volunteer. In the past year, four courses were presented.

Weekly quilting classes in the Community Room also continued in 2025-2026.

More information about FOCCL can be found at friendsofcoastcommunitylibrary.org.

The Friends of the Fort Bragg Library meet the 3rd Friday of each month at 10am.

This has been a favorable year for the Friends of the Fort Bragg Library. Since there has been a decrease in the library budget this year, we are encouraged by our continued Fundraising efforts that have included 2 restaurant venues with an additional one scheduled at the Noyo River Grill for November 16th. We've had two successful seasonal book sales, one in April and the other in September. Sales have increased in the little Noyo Book Store, the library book shelves and notably with a resurgence of our online books sales. Our newer fundraising efforts are in the form of raffle tickets for special items. Currently we are raffling a beautiful quilt. The $1000 Club fundraiser currently has 103 members. Our Current membership total is 138. We have presented $20,700 to the Fort Bragg library for programs and special events this year.

In April the Friends Publicity Committee implemented a colorful and informative quarterly Newsletter. It has been well-received by Friends members and contains timely information and articles pertaining to Book Sales, Fundraising and the Library Annex Project. In the October Newsletter we presented statistics as to how many volunteers are dedicated to the various tasks related to Book Sales. Since we have a variety of Book Sales, we also listed the amounts earned from each type of sale.

Our organization was nominated for the 100 Women Strong event, scheduled for October 22nd at Eagle's Hall in Fort Bragg, from 5:30-7:30pm. Our Board President, Janice Marcell. will be giving an informative presentation followed by a question and answer portion to be addressed by Janice and Recording Secretary/Membership Chair, Nancy Barbosa. We are humbly honored to receive this nomination!

Our Library Annex building project officially broke ground Wednesday, October 7th with GOC (Genaro Oxte Construction and Roofing). We have budgeted $1.5 million for this special project. A substantial amount of these funds were donated via bequests from former library patrons. GOC has presented the Friends with 15-month timeline for completion of this amazing building that will have a Teen Room, History Room, 2 Study/Quiet rooms, Friends & Library Staff Workroom and a large Media Room. We are excited about the future activities that will take place in this grand building!

The Laytonville FOLL has had a very productive year, with a new, deeper team of volunteers trained in support of our Book Shop open days and all other activities. Continuing the progress of policies and procedures established last year, a more robust volunteer staff helps our operations to run more smoothly and do more within our mission to facilitate the joyful experience of reading and learning, to provide local library branch support, and to build our community visibility and engagement.

New physical improvements include expanded shelving, a reorganized sorting room, and an inviting public experience, with book categories ID'd and with monthly themed displays. We have built a stronger social media presence on Facebook and have improved outdoor "curb appeal" with new signage, new shrub and flower beds, and painted rock borders. This year we worked with Allison Wild to create a book sale rack in the library, and we have stepped up our outreach for free books for children through visiting field trips, free book coupons, classroom distributions, and Farmer's Market tabling. We participate in local events such as the annual Community Resource Fair, Earth Day at the Cahto Tribe reservation, and Halloween celebration at Harwood Hall, among others. This year we hosted two local author Book Release parties (most recently Jon Spitz's "In Search of the Optimal Human Diet") and have just completed a successful annual outdoor Book Sale. We continue the important mission of hosting the Laytonville Seed Library in a new private office, sharing knowledge and giving and gathering seeds, including participation in the International Seed Swap Day. We also provide computer tech support, as well as internet open source information and Coding workshops in collaboration with library staff.

Our Community Room continues to be a vital service and local hub, offering internet access, computer use and printing, and a children's art and play area. Groups and meetings hosted include a weekly kids playgroup and monthly meetings of our Book Club (pictured), free Grief Counseling, the local Emergency Radio Responders group, and the Laytonville Area Mendocino Advisory Council. We also host meetings of the Mendocino Land Trust and the Community Foundation of Mendocino County. A particularly meaningful event was held on July 26th honoring the life of Shawn Haven, one of the key founders of the original FOLL.

Our challenges continue to be primarily financial, given the small pool of Laytonville donors and book purchasers. We net modest funds for library support, but we want to do much more. Goals for next year include implementation of on-line book selling, library partnerships with organizations like Better World Books (to lessen our extensive collections and refresh current offerings), and more effective marketing and visibility to attract purchasers and donors beyond our local population. The FOLL will continue to do all they can with what we have and where we are, all in support of the Laytonville community and the mission of the Mendocino County Long Valley Library branch!

The Friends of the Laytonville Library meet every 2nd Friday at 12:00 noon in the Community Room at the Book Shop.

The Friends of the Round Valley Public Library

P.O. Box 620, Covelo, CA 95428
President Ed Tepas, Facebook: The Friends of the Round Valley Public Library
Meets monthly the first Friday of every month at 5:00 PM in Library Commons.

The Round Valley Branch had over 20,800 visits last year and more than 1500 folks attended one or more of our over 100 programs. The internet connection with free Wi-Fi 24/7 and the available computers in the library are tremendous assets to a community with only expensive home connections or unreliable cell service as options.

There has been a library in town for almost fifty years, started by a few volunteers donating their own collections, eventually in 1989 becoming part of the County of Mendocino Library system. The Round Valley Branch Library has been in our new location since 2010. It has one full time librarian, three part time librarians and a host of volunteers. Our branch was nationally recognized in 2024 as “The Best Small Library in America.”

Our local library is the heart of much of the community. Along with a beautiful, clean, well-lit space graced with a collection of relevant volumes, documents, exhibits, art, and cultural artifacts it provides many of the necessary elements for a vibrant, functioning society.

A range of the social services outreach operations use the Commons Meeting Room of the Round Valley Public Library as the local center for help with Medi-Cal, CalFresh, CalWORKS, WIC & Social Security advocacy; America’s Job Center & EDD assisted with filing for benefits like Unemployment Insurance (UI), Disability Insurance (DI), or Paid Family Leave (PFL) ; California Human Development offered farmworker services and trainings; Nuestra Alianza de Willits helped people sign up for CalFresh, Medi-Cal, housing help, and other social services. Where needed, they offered referrals. Services were available in English and Spanish. MCAVHN Hepatitis C and HIV testing happened in the library’s media room.

The Library, either as the Friends or the County, hosts a range of activities important to the community beyond providing a venue for Social Services. Live in person Town Hall meetings with Assemblyman Chris Rogers and State Senator Candidate Damon Connolly, on air interviews with the County Third District Supervisor Candidates, hosting the monthly RVAMAC and the Emergency and Disaster Preparedness Working Group meetings, the planning and coordination of the Nome Cult Walk, a once a week home school group, a monthly community open mic music performance venue, regular showings of documentary films and all of the incredible traveling programs sponsored by the Mendocino County Library were features of this years' events. Our Seed Library has impressive support and participation.

Our librarian, Josh Bennett, in collaboration with enthusiastic volunteers, other library staff and special county wide programs, produces a hundred events a year, with over 450 pre-school children participants, another 1000 school age attendees, and over 700 adult participants this last year.

The Friends continue to maintain the Walnut Grove Park which has a Friday Farmer's Market for the local organic produce. Our certified commercial kitchen provides a legal place for people to process their baked or canned goods for sale, as well as the core equipment for the Walnut Grove Cafe in the lobby of the library commons. The Friends sponsor the Skate Park Project, the Round Valley Blackberry Festival, and KYBU 96.9 FM.

We love our little library. The Best in America.

The Ukiah Valley Friends of the Library meets monthly every third Thursday at the library at 4:00.

The Friends of the Library in Ukiah have had a busy year. As a result of the cuts in funding by the County, the monies for book acquisition has been severely impacted. The Ukiah FOL thus decided to provide some relief. We donated our profits from the Ukiah Natural Foods Co-op fundraiser which was held in August as well as the interest from a maturing cd which we had invested with Savings Bank. These funds were used by the librarians for purchasing new and needed books.

In addition to that, we continued our support for the various programs provided by the librarians. Events such as story time for children, the childrens' farmers market, gaming and crafting for teens, author talks, tech help, and book clubs for adults to name but a few are all activities provided by the Friends of the Library.

One of the special events we engaged in this year was our collaboration with the Ukiah Natural Foods Co-op on 9/25 for a Dolly Parton book donation and encouraged people to bring in gently used books. We received 910 books (mostly childrens' books) which went in our book sale in October. Speaking of the book sale, the Ukiah FOL depends on its monthly book sales and online sales to earn the money needed to fund the aforesaid programs and activities for the library.

One of the jobs that we are now undertaking is to devise a systematic plan to turn over the books that have not sold at our book sale after two months in order to keep our inventory fresh and to provide more space for storage and new acquisitions. Hopefully, the new protocol will make for an easier transition to the next sale and a varied and more attractive choice for our patrons.

Friends of the Willits Library

Contact person, FOWL Secretary Olga O'Neill

Meets monthly at the library on the third Saturday at 10:00 am.

The Willits Friends has continued to focus its efforts on providing financial assistance for programs and specific needs for the library. The Willits Friends has a permanent for-sale book shelf, offers weekend sales in the meeting room twice yearly, and provides several pop-up book sales. We continue to work with Better World Books (BWB) and have redoubled our efforts with them as a funding stream, albeit a modest one. In addition to some income, BWB is a means to get all usable books into readers' hands both through sales and donations. There are free adult and children's books available at the site and are also provided to the food bank and other community areas.

Recently, the Friends administered the Downey Fund, which began with a large donation earmarked for non-fiction books for the Willits Branch. Members can continue to donate specifically to this fund or choose to make general donations. In addition to funds provided for programs and specific needs, this year the Friends will contribute $10,000 towards the book collection as budget cuts have greatly impacted the branch. Along with membership renewals, we have reached out to members encouraging additional donations, and updating them of budget cuts and our work.

We are very excited that a significant renovation has been approved by the Board of Supervisors through the work of Library Administration, the Library Advisory Board, and the Willits Branch Manager and staff. This project is possible because of Measure O's dedicated portion for capital improvements. The branch sought the Friends input as well as that of other community members.

Though it is always challenging to have any resource closed for a long period of time, the library clearly needs this work done. The Friends will work with the library in finding ways to accommodate our donation bins and other matters this closure and re-opening will impact. Our biggest hope is that the work on this renovation is expediated as efficiently as possible and in a timely manner.
